Amazon Adventure & Machu Picchu

Voyage of Discovery

From the Amazon River Basin, where the dense jungle teems with the greatest diversity of plant and animal life on Earth, to the emerald-green peaks of Machu Picchu, your Peruvian expedition is a journey of natural wonder and ancient mysteries. Leave the modern world behind as you begin your 11-day voyage into one of the world's most remote regions. Spend one night in Peru's capital city of Lima before embarking on a three-night river cruise through the tributaries of the Peruvian Amazon and the Pacaya-Samiria National Reserve — the largest wetlands refuge on the planet. Watch for toucans, pink and gray dolphins and tamarin monkeys on private guided excursions through the rainforest, including a nighttime jungle outing that takes you on a quest for such nocturnal animals as caiman and bats. Our expedition continues from the Amazon to the Sacred Valley of Urubamba and on to the incomparable Machu Picchu — a UNESCO World Heritage site that encompasses more than 200 archaeological treasures that had been obscured from the outside world for more than four centuries.

TEXAS EXES[®]

— FLYING LONGHORNS —

Dear Texas Ex:

Join us for an unforgettable journey to the legendary Amazon River Basin, where the biodiversity of Earth's largest rainforest ecosystem is coupled with the marvels of awe-inspiring Machu Picchu, the legendary "Lost City of the Incas."

This 11-day, 10-night land and river itinerary features deluxe hotel accommodations and an exclusively chartered cruise aboard the deluxe Zafiro, a small expedition boat specifically designed to be one of few passenger vessels permitted to navigate the remote tributaries of the Peruvian Amazon and the pristine wetlands of Pacaya-Samiria National Reserve. On board and on excursions, English-speaking naturalists will guide us through this fragile biome to see endemic butterflies, endangered pink river dolphins, squirrel-sized tamarins, resplendent bird-life and enormous blooming water lilies.

Our unique expedition takes us from the Amazon River Basin to the Sacred Valley of Urubamba, the cradle of the mighty Inca Empire. This stunning landscape of snowcapped peaks, ancient agricultural terraces and flowering meadows is dotted with magnificent archaeological sites and picturesque Quechua villages. This wondrous valley connects Machu Picchu and the UNESCO-inscribed, ancient Inca capital of Cuzco. The highlight of our extraordinary Andean experience is a visit to Machu Picchu, unparalleled in its aura of mystery and majesty.

This outstanding itinerary is brought to you by the Texas Exes travel program, which supports the association's mission of promoting and protecting The University of Texas at Austin and uniting its alumni around the world. While you do not have to be an alumnus of UT to travel with us, we do ask that all Flying Longhorns travelers have an active membership in the Texas Exes. Memberships start at just $50.

The association is a huge proponent of continuing education and there is no better classroom than our world. Experience rich history and culture in the company of your fellow Longhorns! Are you ready for the adventure of a lifetime? We're standing by to answer all of your questions and/or take your reservation. Capacity is limited on this popular program and it may sell out quickly. Protecting Our Planet

Winding over more than 4,400 miles from the Andes Mountains to the Atlantic Ocean, the Amazon River flows through nine South American countries and vast tracts of virgin rainforest producing one-fifth of the world's freshwater supply. More than one-third of all species recorded in the world are found in the Amazon River Basin, constituting the largest plant and animal species on Earth. This majestic, jungle-fringed region is also home to many indigenous river people, or riberleños, who have lived in harmony with the forest for centuries. Often referred to as the “lungs of the planet,” the Amazon River Basin is home to the world's largest tropical rainforest and plays a vital role in regulating Earth's climate and producing oxygen—despite the fact that survival of its wondrous species remains under threat from deforestation, mining and agriculture. Efforts are being made to protect this natural treasure and its inhabitants—including conservation initiatives, sustainable development projects and a drive to promote eco-tourism. However, much more needs to be done to ensure that its people, plants and animals can thrive for generations to come.

Machu Picchu & the Sacred Valley

Cradled by the soaring peaks of the Andes Mountains, the Inca citadel of Machu Picchu evokes awe and wonder like few places on Earth. Our itinerary includes an extraordinary opportunity to experience the majesty of this “lost city of the Incas” and other treasures of the lush Sacred Valley. Built in the 15th century as a summer retreat for the Inca Emperor Pachacutec, Machu Picchu was unknown to the outside world for four centuries until American explorer Hiram Bingham III stumbled upon it in 1911. A century of extensive research and study still has not revealed the secrets of its purpose, its residents or its abandonment; nevertheless, this UNESCO World Heritage site has been carefully excavated and preserved. Our exploration of the Sacred Valley’s ancient engineering marvels also includes a visit to the fortress of Ollantaytambo, which stands as a lasting testimony to the powerful and far-reaching Inca Empire. Here, village craftsmen employ age-old techniques to weave intricate tapestries and sculpt colorful pottery. You will also discover the Inca stone fortress of Sacsayhuamán in the Inca capital of Cuzco and see the UNESCO-designated city’s grand Baroque- and Renaissance-style churches — a fascinating mix of pre-Columbian and colonial influences.
